

Chapter 4: Weblinks

www.orangutans.com.au/Orangutans-Survival-Information/New-orangutan-population-found-in-Indonesia.aspx

There are many associations, all over the world, dedicated to the survival of the orang-utan, a species of primate at high risk of extinction. This organisation is based in Australia, and is dedicated to also promote consciousness about the Rainforest and has an extensive educational program. You can check this out with your teacher too, and maybe you may decide to take part to some initiatives to help out and learn something new along the way.

www.rainforestrescue.org.au/ourprojects/orangutan-critical-habitat.html

This not for profit organisation informs about the Indonesian Rainforests and promotes initiatives that can raise consciousness and money to assist. This specific section is about the orangutan situation, but we suggest you check the whole website.

www.asean.org/

The Association of Southeast Asian Nations, commonly abbreviated ASEAN, is a geo-political and economic organization of 10 countries located in Southeast Asia, which was formed on 8 August 1967 by Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore and Thailand. Since then, membership has expanded to include Brunei, Burma (Myanmar), Cambodia, Laos, and Vietnam. Its aims include the acceleration of economic growth, social progress, cultural development among its members, the protection of the peace and stability of the region, and to provide opportunities for member countries to discuss differences peacefully.

All URLs contained in this page and publication were checked for currency during the production process. Note, however, that the publisher cannot vouch for the ongoing currency of URLs.